

About the Mountain Area Health Education Center's (MAHEC) NC AHEC Scholars Program

Would you like to be a part of a group of progressive health professionals committed to community service, health parity, academic excellence and the transformation of health care in western North Carolina?

The NC AHEC Scholars Program at MAHEC recruits, trains and supports a diverse group of college students from western North Carolina, creating a multidisciplinary team of future health professionals committed to both community service and the transformation of health care in our region.

With an emphasis on students from underrepresented minorities, disadvantaged and rural backgrounds, and first-generation college students, the NC AHEC Scholars Program aims to improve the diversity and distribution of all health professions and to support health systems transformation across the state. Each class of AHEC Scholars at MAHEC represents a variety of health professions and institutions from western North Carolina.

MAHEC is the largest Area Health Education Center (AHEC) in North Carolina, which evolved to address national and state concerns with the supply, retention and quality of health professionals. This program is a partnership with AHECs across the state of North Carolina, the MedServe Fellowship Program (<http://www.med-serve.org>), AmeriCorps VISTA and other statewide and regional partners.

Selected applicants participate in a two-year educational program and will receive a stipend for travel and expenses. Each AHEC Scholar will receive a NC AHEC Scholars Certificate, setting you apart from other students in an increasingly competitive environment. Selected scholars will also have the chance to meet leaders in health care and make connections with other participants, creating an invaluable network for your future career in health care.

The NC AHEC Scholars Experience

This experience is co-created and co-taught by faculty and staff from across the state. There is a two-year commitment that provides 40 hours of didactics and 40 hours of clinical work each year, including exposure to real-life clinical situations in MAHEC's Simulation Center. The Simulation Center provides the opportunity for students to use interactive, life-like mannequins and task trainers in a structured, risk-free, learning environment. Experience in community clinical settings is also a foundational component of the program. Scholars develop new skills, experiences and strategies to improve both access and delivery of health care.

The program will begin in September and run through May each year, beginning in 2018-19. The curriculum will offer learning opportunities in collaborative care, written and oral communication, cultural competency, professionalism, medical ethics, and critical thinking, and will address current health care topics such as:

- Wellness and Disease Prevention (Obesity, Tobacco, Domestic Violence, etc.)
- Social Determinates of Health
- Behavioral Health and Substance Use
- Community Health and Advocacy
- HIV
- Chronic Conditions (Diabetes, Cardiovascular Disease, Hypertension, Autoimmune, etc.)
- End of Life Issues

PROGRAM ELIGIBILITY

NC AHEC Scholars must:

- Be enrolled in a college-level health professions education training program in North Carolina by August 31, 2018
- Have reliable access to Wi-Fi
- Have reliable transportation
- Be eligible to work inside the United States

REQUIREMENTS

Each NC AHEC Scholar must:

- Be committed to the program for a total of two years
- Complete 40 hours of didactic training each year of the program
- Complete 40 hours of experiential training each year of the program

Your certification as an AHEC Scholar will signify that you have additional knowledge, skills, and experiences that will give you an advantage in moving forward in your chosen health profession.
