MMMP INTERNSHIP

History and Overview

The Minority Medical Mentoring Program (MMMP) began in the fall of 2005 as an internship for under-represented minority high school students who had an interest in the practice of medicine. This program was replicated from a similar program in Florida for African-American students. The Asheville program initially targeted African-American students, then was expanded to include Hispanic/Latino students in 2009 and is now an inclusive program for all under-represented minorities. The program started as a collaboration with the late Dr. John P. Holt, Dr. Albert Anderson, MAHEC (Jacquelyn Hallum), Mission Health (Bill Mance & Sharon K. West), and the Western Carolina Medical Society (then Buncombe County Medical Society, Alan McKenzie).

Today, the program pairs under-represented minority high school students with a diverse group of health professionals in Buncombe County. This program is for high school seniors who have a serious interest in pursuing a health career. MMMP is open to students who are enrolled in a school-sanctioned internship for honors course credit through Asheville City or Buncombe County Schools. The program provides a minimum of 135 intern hours for one semester.

Out of the 1246 physicians who are Western Carolina Medical Society members and actively practice medicine in Buncombe County, less than three percent (2.73%) are minorities (self-reported). Serving our county are five individuals who identify as African American (0.40%), one as American Indian (0.08%), twenty-one as Asian (specific breakdown not available) (1.69%), and seven as Latino (0.56%). - Western Carolina Medical Society, Correspondence June 13, 2017

Student interns are exposed to a variety of healthcare fields such as Anesthesiology, Cardiology, Chinese Medical Arts, Dentistry, Dermatology, Diabetes Management, Ear, Head, Nose & Throat, Emergency Medicine, Family Medicine, Genetics, Geriatrics, Indigent Care Clinics, Integrative Medicine, Internal Medicine, Memory Care, Obstetrics and Gynecology, Oncology, Optometry, Palliative Care, Pediatrics, Pharmacotherapy, Physical Medicine, Public Health, Radiology, Sleep Lab, Social Work, Sports Medicine, Traumatic Surgery, and more. The students have rotations in clinics, hospitals, private practices, education centers, resident didactic sessions, and MAHEC's Virtual Library and Knowledge Services. In addition to scheduled rotations, students may use internship hours to participate in ABIPA Action Teams, MAHEC health career programs for academic enrichment, college planning, conferences and service learning opportunities.

MMMP INTERNSHIP

GOALS:

- Increase the numbers of under-represented minorities who train and practice in WNC.
- Enhance the quality of care as a result of an increase in workforce diversity.
- Increase levels of health parity in Western North Carolina.

We hope that students who participate in this unique experience will eventually come back to practice in Western North Carolina and that we, as a community, continue to take positive steps toward the achievement of health parity in Buncombe County.

ORIENTATION: The 2-week orientation includes but is not limited to: Program Overview and Expectations, Group Project requirements, Facility Tours, and trainings in Folic Acid, Health Information Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), Medical Ethics, Implicit Bias and Microaggressions, Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), Financial Aid and Workplace Etiquette.

INTERNSHIP SCHEDULE: A student interested in MMMP should enroll in his/her school's internship program for the last period of the day and choose the last available lunch. This will enable the student to have a rotation schedule from 2:30–4:30 pm.

THE EXPERIENCE: The MMMP internship is a very rigorous program. Student interns have weekly rotations with participating Buncombe County healthcare professionals. Interns collaborate on a group project on a topic of their choosing. The project presentation is open to the community, family members, school faculty and staff, MMMP Advisory Committee and MAHEC staff.

MMMP INTERNSHIP

LIABILITY INSURANCE: Students enrolled in the internship program are covered under their school's liability coverage. Verification of the school's liability coverage must be provided to MAHEC by the school designee prior to the start of the program.
