THE ETHICS OF HIGH EXPECTATIONS

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this educational activity, participants will be able to:

• Evaluate the evidence supporting high expectations for clients of all ability levels
• Analyze the moral imperatives of imagining and enacting high expectations for clients
• Apply an occupational performance framework to identify practitioner behaviors consistent with high expectations

DESCRIPTION

This 1.5-hour course will explore the evidence and implications for establishing and maintaining high expectations for clients, and particularly clients with significant/multiple disabilities. Understanding the moral underpinnings of high expectations may inform and invigorate long-term practitioner effort to accelerate client progress and goal attainment. Further, applying an explicit, occupational performance approach to both imagine and implement high expectations for clients may help articulate concrete practitioner behaviors that promote client growth.
