DESCRIPTION

Injured patients present a wide range of complex problems. The ATLS® 10th Edition Student Course presents a concise approach to assessing and managing multiple injured patients. The course presents doctors with knowledge and techniques that are comprehensive and easily adapted to fit their needs. The skills described in the manual represent one safe way to perform each technique, and the American College of Surgeons (ACS) recognizes that there are other acceptable approaches. However, the knowledge and skills taught in the course are easily adapted to all venues for the care of patients.

ACS and its Committee on Trauma (COT) developed the Advanced Trauma Life Support® (ATLS®) program which provides systemic and concise training for the early care of trauma patients. ATLS® offers participants a safe, reliable method for the immediate management of an injured patient and the basic knowledge necessary to:

- Assess the patient's condition rapidly and accurately
- Resuscitate and stabilize the patient according to priority
- Determine if the patient's needs exceed a facility's capacity
- Arrange appropriately for the patient's inter-hospital transfer (who, what, when, and how)
- Ensure that optimum care is provided and that the level of care does not deteriorate at any point during the evaluation, resuscitation, or transfer process

This one-day course is designed for physicians who have completed an ATLS® Course within the past four years. Participants in this course must have an ATLS® Provider Card that is within six months of expiration to be eligible for this one-day refresher course.

AUDIENCE

Physicians, Physician Assistants (PAs), and Nurse Practitioners (NPs).

A NOTE ON CREDITS

The American College of Surgeons (ACS) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education (CME) for physicians. ACS designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The American College of Emergency Physicians (ACEP) has approved ACEP Category 1 credit for up to 6.5 hours.

A non-physician certificate of attendance is available at MyATLS.com and in the ATLS® Course Management system.

ATLS® STUDENT COURSE MANUAL

All participants are expected to bring with them an ATLS® Student Course 10th Edition Manual. Registration fees include the manual and shipping. Your shipping address will be the address entered on the brochure registration page or at online checkout. Please update if necessary. No PO Boxes.

ACS guidelines require that all students complete the pre-test online for this course prior to attending the live course. A link to the online pre-test will be emailed to all students in advance of the course. Please provide your preferred email address on the brochure registration page or during online registration.

In order to accommodate these requirements, process your event registration, provide you with a manual and the link to take the pre-test in a timely manner, registration for the ATLS® course on Thursday, April 22, 2021, will close promptly at 5:00 pm on Friday, April 16, 2021.

If your registration is received after the expressed deadline, the total will be the registration fee + a $50.00 charge to ship the manual via Federal Express.

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Assess the patient's condition rapidly and accurately
- Resuscitate and stabilize the patient according to priority
- Determine if the patient's needs exceed a facility's capabilities
- Arrange appropriately for the patient's definitive care
- Ensure that optimum care is provided
