DESCRIPTION

Clinicians involved in planning and managing care often lack a common language and systematic assessment & treatment approach that allows for effective, individualized treatment plans. This one-day training provides an overview of The ASAM Criteria for prescribers who are providing Office-based Opioid Treatment (OBOT) or working with Opioid Treatment Programs (OTPs), and for treatment teams working with prescribers on state-of-the-art addiction treatment, especially as it relates to implementing the content and spirit of The ASAM Criteria (2013). This training covers the historical foundations of the Criteria, guiding principles, six dimensions, levels of service, continued stay, transfer and discharge criteria, with special attention to the Opioid Treatment Services (OTS) chapter of The ASAM Criteria (2013).

AUDIENCE

Physicians, physician assistants, nurses, nurse practitioners, mental health professionals (including substance abuse counselors, social workers, psychologists, marriage and family therapists, school counselors) and other professionals currently working in Office-based Opioid Treatment (OBOT) and Opioid Treatment Programs (OTPs).

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Review paradigm shifts and evolutions in generations of care that led to The ASAM Criteria
- Review The ASAM Criteria's decision-making processes
- Identify and describe the six ASAM criteria assessment dimensions
- Identify services and modalities needed, as well as treatment planning approaches
- Review special populations and emerging research about addiction
- Develop strategies to overcome real-world barriers to implementing The ASAM Criteria
