DESCRIPTION

Roy Kiessling returns, along with Sherry McKisson, to offer an Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing (EMDR) Basic Training & Refresher Training Course, “Integrating EMDR into Clinical Practice” at MAHEC in Asheville, NC. This is the full EMDRIA-approved Five-Day Intensive Seminar that includes 10 required hours of basic consultation. Foundations of EMDR, as well as standard EMDR procedures, are covered. The training may be taken by clinicians new to EMDR or utilized as an excellent refresher course for previously trained providers. Adaptations for ethical application in a telehealth setting are also discussed.

THE FOUNDATIONS OF EMDR

- The Adaptive Information Processing Model
- EMDR’s 8 Phases and 3 Prongs
- Belief Schema Targeting Sequence Planning
- Multiple Stabilization Skills
- The Processing Continuum (EMD, EMDr, EMDR)
- 4 Supervised Practice Sessions
- 4 Stabilization Resourcing Skills
- EMD on Present or Future Triggers
- Acute Stress or Processing using Drawings

THE STANDARD EMDR PROCEDURES

Building upon the techniques practiced in The Foundations of EMDR, participants will expand their knowledge and skills by learning:

- Complex Targeting Sequence Planning Options
- Extended Resourcing Skills

The full implementation of EMDR’s procedures, and advanced clinical interventions to use during reprocessing with:

- Special Populations
- Clients with Dissociative Tendencies
- Addictions: Introduction to DeTUR & FSAP
- Phobia, Grief, and Pain
- 4 Supervised Practice Sessions
- Complex Target Sequence Planning
- 4 Behavior Change Resourcing Skills
- 2 Sessions of Standard EMDR Reprocessing

This course provides basic training as the initial step in using EMDR in practice and for potential certification. Click here for more information on additional elements required to obtain formal certification through the EMDR International Association (EMDRIA).

AUDIENCE

Master's level mental health professionals, including mental health and substance use counselors, social workers, psychologists, marriage and family therapists, school counselors, and other professionals interested in this subject. Must be licensed or provisionally licensed in a mental health or related field to attend this training. Interns and Students must be enrolled in a Master's or Doctoral program and they must already be licensed clinicians to attend this training. Training eligibility for other licensed healthcare professionals is considered. MDs need a medical specialty in Psychiatry, and Nurses need a Master of Science in Nursing with a specialty in psychiatric nursing. Participants registering at the nonprofit/Medicaid provider/student rate may be asked to show proof at time of registration.

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion, participants will be able to:

- Describe EMDR's Adaptive Information Processing Model, eight phases, and three-pronged procedures
- Explain how to integrate EMDR's targeting sequence plan from a belief schema perspective into a clinical practice
- Demonstrate the ability to practice effective, efficient, and safe reprocessing of a client's acute stress by using Restricted Processing (aka EMDR)
- Describe the application of EMDR when working with acute stress, dissociative-type clients, military personnel, couples, and children
- Describe complex client case conceptualization (Targeting Sequence Treatment Plans)
- Practice the Extended Resourcing Procedures
- Practice using the full Standard EMDR eight-phase / three-prong treatment
- Describe EMDR's usefulness in treating addictions, phobias, grief, and somatic disorders

FACULTY

Roy Kiessling, LISW, ACSW, completed his EMDR Basic training in 1995 and became a training facilitator for Dr. Francine Shapiro's EMDR Institute in 1997. In 2001, he transitioned to senior trainer for her humanitarian projects and then became a senior trainer for her EMDR Institute in 2006. Roy has participated in humanitarian projects in Bangladesh, Poland, the Middle East, and Russia, as well as in domestic disaster areas affected by Hurricane Katrina. In 2006, he received the Liz Sinker Outstanding Volunteer of the Year Award for his numerous volunteer projects in support of the EMDR Community. In June of 2013, Roy founded EMDR Consulting, a consulting and training organization specializing in integrating EMDR into clinician's clinical practice. Since then, EMDR Consulting has grown a staff of expert EMDR trainers, offering EMDR Consulting and the EMDRIA approved EMDR Basic course, "Integrating EMDR into your Clinical Practice," throughout the United States.

Sherry McKisson, LPC, LCAS, is a Licensed Certified Mental Health Counselor, Licensed Clinical Addiction Specialist, and board-certified counselor in private practice in Hendersonville, NC, where she specializes in complex trauma treatment for adults. Sherry completed an intensive nine-month certification program through the Trauma Center at the Justice Resource Institute (headed by Bessel van der Kolk). Other specializations include the treatment of anxiety disorders, relationship issues, and dissociation disorders. Her background includes 14 years of law enforcement experience, giving her a unique insight when working with first responders and their loved ones. Sherry trained in EMDR in 2012 and has been an Approved Consultant with EMDR Consulting since 2016. Sherry is a Regional Co-Coordinator for the Western North Carolina EMDRIA Regional Network, and she enjoys helping clinicians of all levels develop their practice of EMDR through individual and group consultation. Sherry is co-presenting for EMDR Consulting.
