Skills Lab Held November 28, 2018

The Spiritual Dimension OF WHOLE-PERSON CARE SERIES

DESCRIPTION

An analysis of over 1,000 research studies demonstrated that therapeutic alliance is one of the best and strongest predictors of positive outcomes. During this innovative, engaging, and highly effective training, participants will experience a natural state of heart-mind alignment. In this state, not only do clients feel much safer, clearly heard, and personally honored, but provider burnout and compassion fatigue are significantly diminished.

Combining psychological theory and easy-to-learn experiential components, this ground-breaking, two-part program introduces participants to a unique heart based and holistic approach to easily experience enhanced feelings of peace, calm, joy, and gratitude—those qualities the literature refers to as spiritual well-being.

Understanding and incorporating the spiritual aspect of Whole-Person Care has been greatly undervalued even though the major National Health Care Accreditation Boards—such as the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Health Care Organizations (JCAHO), Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF), and the Council on Quality and Leadership (CQL), and the World Health Organization (WHO)—all emphasize the importance of incorporating the spiritual dimension of life. Come experience this for yourself, and your clients!

LEVEL 1: UNDERSTANDING THE SPIRITUAL DIMENSION OF WHOLE-PERSON CARE

Understanding the Spiritual Dimension of Whole-Person Care provides unique and paradigm challenging content that explores the dynamics of spirituality in Whole-Person Care. Other topics covered include paradigm shifts in the field of behavioral health, research and the spiritual dimension, the role of the heart, psychophysiology of the heart connection, heart-mind alignment, therapeutic alliance and positive outcomes, and creating a safe space for transformational change. Level 1 is designed to provide a theoretical framework to build the foundation for the experiential component of Level 2: Enhancing Heart-Mind Alignment.

Understanding the Spiritual Dimension of Whole-Person Care is divided into the following five modules:

1. Paradigm Shifts in Behavioral Health and Modern Day Practice
2. Research and the Spiritual Dimension of Whole-Person Care
3. The Role of the Heart in the Spiritual Dimension of Whole-Person Care
4. The Psychophysiology of the Heart Connection
5. Heart Based Care and the Spiritual Dimension

LEVEL 2: ENHANCING HEART-MIND ALIGNMENT

Enhancing Heart-Mind Alignment introduces a sequential experience-based process which teaches participants how to effortlessly enjoy the natural state of heart-mind alignment. Learning to naturally experience true heart feelings, such as peace, calm, joy and gratitude, in daily life can help prevent burnout and compassion fatigue, enhance therapeutic alliance and personal fulfillment, and improve the quality of interpersonal relationships and job satisfaction. Gratitude has been shown to uniquely predict life satisfaction and well-being. Participants will experience the transformative benefits of whole-person caring and the enhancement of peace, calm, joy, and gratitude that result from the natural state of heart-mind alignment.

Enhancing Heart-Mind Alignment is divided into the following five modules:

1. Relaxation and Grounding
2. Building the Heart Foundation
3. Enhancing the Experience of True Heart Feelings
4. Cultivating Gratitude
5. Experiencing Heart Based Care

GROUND-BREAKING PROFESSIONAL TRAINING

Whole-person caring is a grounded state of being that the practitioner experiences—it is not a technique. When we experience deeper heart-mind alignment and are able to be guided by innate heart wisdom, whole-person caring becomes a natural expression. This one-of-a-kind workshop creates the foundation for effectively integrating the spiritual dimension into Whole-Person Care.

Note: It is suggested that registrants complete Understanding the Spiritual Dimension of Whole-Person Care (Level 1 Online) before taking Enhancing Heart-Mind Alignment (Level 2 Online) or the live skills lab, which is a training lab class scheduled by MAHEC. Completion of both Level 1 (online) and Level 2 (online or live) is a prerequisite for participating in additional Heart Based Institute programs, including the training to become a Certified Heart Based Support Specialist.

Full instructions on how to register and participate are included on PAGE 5 of this brochure.

AUDIENCE

Physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, nurses, mental health professionals (including substance abuse counselors, social workers, psychologists, marriage and family therapists, school counselors, pastoral counselors, peer support specialists, and intellectual/developmental disability providers), educators, care managers/coordinators, administrators, practice managers, and other professionals interested in this subject.

FACULTY

Ed Rubenstein, PhD, is a licensed psychologist and the Director of Education and Training for Heart Based Institute, a non-profit organization dedicated to bringing heart to Whole-Person Care. For over 35 years, Ed has been at the forefront of the human potential field, working with a multiplicity of client populations and conducting professional workshops and trainings in the U.S. and abroad. He has successfully presented workshops at the National Institutes of Health (NIH), Pan American World Health Organization (PAHO), and other federal, city, county, and community agencies, NPOs, and corporations. Ed's focus within psychology is on developing and introducing Heart Based Therapeutics™—a transformative psychological approach that provides a natural way to grow resiliency, manage emotions, and build positive relationships. Ed received his Doctorate in Counseling Psychology from Florida State University, and holds a master's degree in Rehabilitation Counseling from Florida State University, a master's in Psychology from Radford University, and a master's in Spiritual Studies from Goddard College.

Sexton, MSW, LCSW, is an instructor at Heart Based Institute. She received her master's degree in Social Work from East Carolina University and is licensed in the state of North Carolina as a Licensed Clinical Social Worker. Sexton also holds a master's degree in Leisure Studies from Florida State University where she completed extensive post-graduate work in Educational Leadership and conducted broad research regarding burnout and compassion fatigue among government employees. Sexton brings over 40 years of experience in the Health and Human Services field, which includes assisting individuals and families living with the challenges of a variety of disabilities. She has also delivered international social work services in third world countries and has taught workshops both nationally and internationally. Sexton's philosophy of heart-centered living and heart-centered leadership has been reflected both personally and professionally throughout her life. Her engaging style encourages all individuals to use their natural, innate tools to increase personal gratification and joy.
